

ANTARCTICA

A three week expedition to the South Polar Sea has led us from the most Southerly tip of Argentina via the Falkland Islands and South Georgia to the Antarctic Peninsula.

Numerous, partly adventurous landings have shown us the beauty of this majestic landscape. We were in close proximity to the rich fauna. Millions of penguins, seals and an array of aquatic birds live in this inhospitable icy world.

Birds, whales, orcas and countless icebergs have accompanied us during the voyages on the open seas. They added some excitement and interesting adventures during the long crossings.

Visits to long closed scientific research stations gave us an impression of the hard lives led by the early pioneers of the 6th continent.

Our MultiMedia Show will give you an impression of the incredibly diverse beauty of this inhospitable region.

- Multivision Show in two parts
- Projection with HD beamer
- 630 Digital photographs taken with Nikon cameras and lenses
- Duration: 65 minutes

