

ALASKA

WILDERNESS FOR BEGINNERS

The awe-inspiring and humbling nature of the far North of the United States cannot be tamed. It demands respect from its visitors as well as the willingness to be adventurous and bold. Nevertheless, Annemarie Koelliker and Roberto Saibene dared to venture to Alaska. They even treated themselves some comfort while on their journey! For four weeks they travelled by motorhome along empty highways and camped in vast forests. Despite being “beginners” they quickly felt at ease and at home in the wilderness. Additionally, the climate was unexpectedly mild for the time of year, and Annemarie and Roberto were indulged in Alaska at its best.

The Multivision-Show escorts its audience through spectacular, dreamlike landscapes: glaciers towering over the ocean, impressive mountain ranges, idyllic lakes and a surprisingly rich flora. Many pictures are dedicated to the abundant wildlife such as black bears, moose, caribou and eagles. The most thrilling moments, however, are the very close encounters with the legendary grizzly bears.

- Multivision-Show in two parts
- Projection with 4K beamer
- 580 Digital photos and videos, taken with Nikon cameras and lenses
- Duration: 57 minutes